Published By The Senior Classes of 1946
of Euclid Central High School

FOREWORD

As nations prepare for peace, high school students of the United States are preparing for the duties that they, as the future men and women of America, will undertake. They no longer have the gloomy prospect of war ahead, but rather the peace that follows, and having lived through a period of sorrow and tenseness, they are determined that innocent people will suffer no longer at the expense of a mad dictator's ambition for conquering the world. To this younger generation will go the job of keeping the world one of a united nations.

WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK

To Miss Agnes M. Burgess, beloved member of the faculty for twenty-eight years, who passed away suddenly November 19, 1945, we dedicate Opus '46. Miss Burgess symbolized the spirit of Euclid Central. She gave of herself in order that Euclid Central might have the utmost. Her tireless efforts in working with students in her classes will be remembered. She founded the Student Council and the Euclid Central Chapter of the National Honor Society. But most of all, her sweet, quiet smile, and kind, sincere greeting will be missed in the halls of the school and in every lane she traveled in life.

ADMINISTRATION

I am sure that the revival of the Euclid Central annual is entirely worthy of the highest commendation. Not only is it a record of the achievement and effort of the members of a splendid graduating class. In a way it represents all that is offered to every pupil, regardless of his yearly class assignment.

May I not urge upon the graduates of 1946 to cherish this volume and preserve it carefully. As the years come and go it will become priceless as a clear record of friends and events when our line of memories tend to fade and blur. My highest congratulations to the June, 1946, class. Yours is a magnificent record.

RUSSELL H. ERWINE
Superintendent of Schools

The staff of OPUS '46 and its faculty sponsors, Miss Mary K. Hausheer and Mr. Harold Blackburn, are to be heartily congratulated for their splendid achievement in producing this year book.

It is of interest that this first post-war year brings not only a renewed hope for the future on the part of our young people but also the production of this fine school document which represents a record of the achievements and growth of the students of Euclid Central.

This volume will be cherished by the class of '46 and surely serve as a stimulus to the classes which are to follow.

Dr. Lee R. Gilbert
Principal

THE CLASS PROPHECY OF JANUARY, 1946

Students and faculty members, you are about to behold the prophecy of the January graduation class of eighteen WHOLLY SANE MEMBERS. The longing to visualize what's awaiting us in the future, is not lacking in any of us, but if we ever do put forth enough effort to gain our desired goals, may their realization be as satisfactory and enjoyable as was the time spent in attaining them.

RAY MOTISKA, we prophesy, will turn out to be another Jascha Heifetz, or at least a violinist comparable to him.

RUSSELL CHANEY will leave his jitterbugging days behind him and walk into the domestic role of a husband in the near future.

RAY KRALL and MIKE KOCJAN; they're in the Army now, on part time shifts—giving orders to Uncle Sam and doing K.P.

NETTIE WEISS and DOLORES GRIBBONS—Florence Nightingale has nothing over Nettie Weiss, and Dolores can scarcely refrain from a roaring cheer, recalling high school days every time she emerges from the psychopathic ward.

MATTHEW CHINCHAR, the specialist of the spectacular, digging all the spots on Broadway for the latest jive.

BARBARA NAGY and CHARLOTTE ZIECHMANN, proprietors of the Heavenly Haven Mortuary, will be known as the Elusive Exclusive Embalmers, Inc.

BILL IVANCIC is earning his money as chief brick layer on Euclid's W. P. A.

RUDY BERLAN has reached a life ambition and is now trucking manager of Addressograph-Multigraph.

ADELINE ICZAK, the class choice as the person most likely to succeed, is chief adviser of Mrs. Maxwell's love-lorn column. She aids all those who need advice on how to catch a man or how to lose him.

And now as we come to the end, we must not forget a certain He-man of 203: DON KOLLMORGEN, the red-haired class president of class '46.

THE CLASS PROPHECY OF JUNE, 1946

JEAN BREW, editor of the Euclid Monitor (a two-year-old edition of the growing city of Euclid, Ohio) features today, June 6, 1956, a review of the Euclid Central graduating class of June 6, 1946. Miss Brew has spent much of her time looking up her old classmates. The result is this:

THE CONSOLIDATED HIGH SCHOOL rates first place with some faculty announcements. There is COACH WILLIE YOZIOVICH with the job of trying to breach the differences between the fellows from Shore and Euclid, now on one team.

BILL VANNELLI is head of the Science Department and teaches Physics most capably. He takes the place of his teacher, Mr. Keay, who has retired.

Of most interest to the Science Head is the recent donation of ten thousand dollars by MR. JOHN STEFANAC to install flying classes complete with airplanes. This multi-millionaire is constantly donating large amounts of money to worthy causes.

MISS MILDRED BLAZEK, teacher of history and one of the new courses in school, psychology, was just recently voted the best-liked faculty member.

School nurse STANA MRSNIK managed to keep away from the Euclid Educational System only long enough to get her RN. She returned immediately to watch student temperatures.

MISS JANE LUZAR announced that the kindergarten class of the Elementary School was full to overflowing. Seems she has quite a few duplications. First there were five identical boys escorted by their proud mother, the former MARYETTA HEALY, who has something in common with Mrs. Dionne. The quintuplets are Tom, Dick, Harry, George, and Frank!

As if this weren't enough to confuse Miss Luzar, the girl once known as ELEANOR SULLIVAN sent her triplet boys to join the class.

Other members of the Parent Teachers' Association are the former DORIS PRAPROTIK, once an efficient secretary, now married to the boss, who is an ideal housewife and mother; the former JOSEPHINE POSTACCHINI has much the same background, except that she married a traveling salesman who wasn't her boss then but he is now; BONES was her name and FRANNIE still is, but now she's married with a home and children.

All in the line of teaching comes this notice: JEAN BICKLEY just promoted head of the English Department of Woman's College. She said in her statement to the press, "I owe my success to the perseverance of my High School English teacher."

The High School and newspaper aren't the only things come to pass in Euclid. No, there's the new court-house for which the electrician's plans were recently completed by ROBERT KLINGER. The people of Euclid are not only considering Mr. Klinger electrically as far as the court-house is concerned, but also politically.

On the jazz side there is the fact that the Bronze Room of Hotel Cleveland is billing the home-town boy, ART SYDOW, and his stage-screen-radio-and-television famous dance band!

In radio there is news, too, for the crisp, clear tones of a familiar radio announcer can be identified as those of PETER BENES describing the value and importance of using Sudso in your laundry. Mr. Benes then goes on to introduce the Sudso Soap Opera—"The Passionate Philanthropist," starring DICK BROWN as Phil and MARIAN WOLF as Odessera, the woman with whom Phil is hopelessly in love.

In the field of science, discovery, and achievement is to be noticed the recent release of information by the government concerning the secret work done by EDWARD PRIJATEL and JACK SMITH on the new type of atom control. PRIJATEL worked on methods of controlling the energy of the atom, while SMITH has devised a new chemical combination of U-235.

Then there is EDWARD LYNCH who is proposing a flight to the moon. He has just broken all flight records of speed in his jet-propelled plane.

JEAN CUTLER has just returned from an expedition into the interior of Korea, where she was searching for a certain type of native with the distinguishing features being slant-eyes and broken noses. The results of her mission are not yet known.

The financial world reports at the end of the fiscal year that the Shepard Company was again the most successful. ROBERT SHEPARD, president of the company, is described by his efficient private secretary, MISS BERNICE MOELLER, as the "King Midas of big business." Miss Moeller is leaving the company now, at the finish of a busy season, to marry.

Musically there is MARY TUCK with her all-girl orchestra touring the country, steeped in success. Of course, the lilting soprano voice of OLGA ZAKRAJSEK makes their fame spread quickly.

When the Summer Symphony Concerts start next week, MINNA KEEL, who holds the coveted seat of first bass viol, will be featured soloist.

Also new on the network is JOHN JURATOVAC, who is replacing Mr. Anthony. Mr. Juratovac is reported the most capable for the position of telling people what to do and why and how.

Technically there is FRANK ROBERTSON, who skillfully maneuvers the dials and knobs of his own invention, a new type television radio!

Broadway called quite a few. It seems ANTOINETTE GIAMEIO was once the secretary to a Broadway musical producer and was typing a script that called for a dancer that she felt certain she could portray. She got the part with some fast talking, and quickly climbed the heights to stardom with tapping toes.

Featured in the same musical was a little blonde girl at the piano. The tickler of the ivories turned out to be IRENE STEFFEK.

Emceeding the show was that fast ad-libber with the rather red face, JOE EISLER. They say Joe's slated for Hollywood.

Domesticity's voice had a wide range. DOLORES PETRICK this week becomes the bride of an Army man after deciding not to wait for her future husband's discharge, as it is rumored the Captain intends to carry on his career in the armed forces.

MARILYN BRENNAN'S family eats well, for her years as dietician in one of Cleveland's larger hospitals speaks favorably of her home-making abilities.

JEAN IBELE, now happily married to a rancher out west, can be remembered for her fine interior decorating jobs. Her home must be ideal.

DIANA HAWKEY devotes her time between law offices and home-making. One place she decides whether to prosecute, and in the other her decision is whether to broil or bake!

Mothers, like the former DOROTHY SNIDER, turn to AL JASIN, owner and manager of "Kiddies Clothing Store," when in search of outfits for their offspring. He sent to New York to get Dorothy two bell-bottomed navy blue suits, in sizes 5 and 6, for her little sailors!

Sports is well represented. In the Olympic Meet, FRANK D'ARCY ran a four-minute mile which crowned his success on the cinders.

In the air, there is SHIRLEY GLEETEN, a tiny miss but a big pilot. Her stunting brings chills to all who watch. She occasionally takes up a brave friend.

Also in the air but in a different way are TED MCINTEE and ETHEL HEISER. When the circus comes to town, everyone goes to watch this team do their daring, three-somersault act on the flying trapeze. Most exciting is the fact that there is no net beneath them.

In the water are the two famous blonde bombshells featured in the coming Aquacade. They are LAURA LEE GRONDA and IRENE HABIC. Their water race has unusual style.

Not always in the water but always near it is GEORGE BALINT, life-guard. He is still the principal attraction of the beach. He intends going south where his job will take on permanence.

Another woman in sports is COLEEN MARTIN, who was today noted the most famous woman athlete. She has, at some time or other, participated in every sport.

Heard from Hollywood is this clever quip: that Lana Turner and Rita Hayworth are leaving because of KATHERINE VALJATO'S appearance, which has caused many a male heart at that West Coast beauty center to flutter violently.

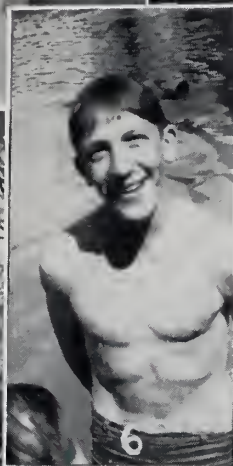

From the Mid-west comes this: Chicago citizens have gone into hiding since they heard the Flying Hanlon brothers intend to stop over the Windy City in their tour of the country. Evidently they have heard of some of ED HANLON'S escapades!

Other travelers are ELSIE KOVAC and EMLIE HEHR who have again set out for South America. This is the two-some's third trip south of the border. One of their first stops will be to see NANCY DAVIS, now of the diplomatic bureau as interpreter.

MISS MILDRED HABIC just returned from her villa in Florida where she tells of a gay time, and is planning to leave next week to spend the remainder of the summer in California. Miss Habic intends to go on a buying spree first.

Naturally there was a slight return to the soil; it occurred in TOM KEAY who has been farming soy beans. He combines his mechanical, chemical, and physics knowledge to find new uses for the plastics he makes at harvest.

ACTIVITIES

"TIME OUT FOR FUN"

We, at Euclid Central, are very proud of our club program. Our aim is to have an extra-curricular activity for every student. Besides those "after-school" clubs which are pictured on the following pages, there are twenty-three clubs which meet the third period on Wednesday. They are varied so as to provide, as nearly as possible, an outlet of interest for every student. Though sponsored by a teacher, each club is run by a student cabinet chosen by the members themselves. Some are service clubs, while others are purely social. Some are open just to junior high or senior high, while others are for boys, or for girls, and some are open to the whole student body. For Junior High boys and girls, Mr. Smith has the Junior Card and Games Club; Miss Surrarrer has the Junior Dramatics Club; and Mrs. Keyerleber has the Junior Camera Club. For Junior High boys, Mr. Graham has the Airplane Club, Mr. Brown has the Pre-flight Club, Mr. Edwards and Mr. McBride have charge of the Junior High Recreation, and Mr. Hoon has the Boosters Club. Junior High girls may belong to Miss Vermillion's Hobbies Club, Junior Girl Reserves under Miss Chiara and Miss Hausheer or Miss Keyerleber's Square Dance Club.

Senior High boys and girls are offered the Drama Club in charge of Mr. Bennett, Mr. Keay's Camera Club, Chess and Checkers Club under Mr. Lebovitz, Mr. Price's Archery Club, the Card Club under Mr. Gray, and Miss Hoddick and Mr. Vollman's Arts and Crafts Club. For Senior High boys, Mr. Calvert has the Gymnastics Club, and Mr. Blackburn has the Travel Club. Miss Kessinger has the Amiga Club, and Miss Berg has the Music Appreciation Club for Sr. High girls. The Spanish Club under Mr. Marcotte, and Mrs. Stewart's International Relations Club are for both Junior and Senior High students.

LEADING ORGANIZATIONS

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

A chapter of the National Honor Society was founded at Euclid Central by Miss Agnes Burgess. Members are elected to this organization by the faculty in both the first and the second semesters. Students are eligible for membership in the 11A and 12A classes, and the number of candidates is determined by the enrollment of each class. Scholarship, leadership, character, and service are the requirements which are considered. Achievement of membership is the highest honor which can be bestowed upon a student. Miss Pauline Berg is the faculty adviser. President, Jean Brew; Vice-President, Robert Shepard; Secretary-Treasurer, Diana Hawkey.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The student governing body of Euclid Central is the Student Council founded by the late Miss Agnes M. Burgess. The present faculty sponsor is Miss Clara Chiara, and present officers are: President, B. Klinger; Vice-President, P. Benes; Secretary, Dick Teske; Treasurer, David Orr.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association is one of the outstanding organizations at Euclid Central. One of its chief functions is the arranging of interscholastic games for our athletic teams. It also takes care of the upkeep of all athletic equipment and the uniforms for the teams. At present, its officers are Bob Shepard, president; Irene Habic, vice-president; and Lillian Makransky, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Delmar V. Smith, the faculty adviser, has recently taken over for Mr. Richard R. Keay.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Athletic Association is a new organization at Euclid Central. It was established this year by Miss Betty Keyerleber, and its chief function is the organizing of girls' intramural sports. The officers are Dolores Kne, president; Jean Cutler, vice-president; Lillian Makransky, secretary; and Shirley Miller, treasurer. It has established a new system of awarding numerals to girls who have done outstanding work in sports. The numerals are awarded on a point basis.

Second Row: Barbara Walter, Margaret Pirchner, Ruth Welter, Shirley Miller, Miss Keyerleber

MOVIE CLUB

Enjoyed by all students of the school are the movies sponsored by the Movie Club every last twenty-minutes of all the lunch periods. Besides these current movies are the educational films that can be requested from any department at school. This club, sponsored by Mr. Bailey, has been working toward a new projector, which will be bought by the money received from the two-cent charge on the noon movies.

First Row: (Left to Right) Jean Brew, Barbara Zuber, Ruth Jurcak, Ethel Heiser, Violet Bowes, Dolores Kne, Stana Mrsnick, Dolores Gribbons

P.A. CLUB

The P.A. Club, organized by Mr. Hoon in 1941, is now under Mr. Holloway, who took charge of the Public Address system during the second semester. This club broadcasts announcements to the entire school. News broadcasts and other programs may be sent to individual classes at the request of the teacher. An operator is on duty every period in the fully equipped studio. One of the group's important functions is making recordings of performances and also individual recordings for class work. The officers are: Robert Lyman, chief operator; Ted McIntee, assistant chief; and Nettie Wess, secretary-treasurer.

First Row: Cliff Boyce, Pat Kreyssig, Nettie Wess, Nancy Davis, Bob Lyman, Peg Esmiol, Irene Steffek,

RAMSHACKLE INN

The mystery farce "Ramshackle Inn" was presented by the Senior Class on April 4th and April 5th, 1946. Ramshackle Inn was a hide-out for three black-market racketeers. When a flighty new owner took over, she was tolerated because she didn't know enough to cause any trouble. However, she, with the help of a woman from the F.B.I., finally succeeded in capturing the racketeers and finding the mysterious person who had committed so many murders throughout the story. She was amply rewarded for her efforts.

SNAFU

The play "Snafu" was presented by the Junior class on November 1, 1945. Situation normal all fouled up. Poor Ronald Stevens certainly was "Snafu" when he changed his uniform to "civies." Being followed by detectives, caught by the police, entangling himself in family problems, and becoming the major part in a college scandal were only a few of the situations in which he found himself. He decided that Army life was peaceful by comparison, and so ran away to re-enlist. Feeling conscience-stricken because he had left his parents without explaining to them, Ronald returned. Meanwhile, events had been clarified, and he decided that home, after all, was the best place to stay.

CLASS WILL—12A

We, the graduating class of January, 1946, about to leave this famed school of learning, being of sound mind and body, do bequeath the following to those who shall succeed us:

Mike Kojan—Dr. I. Q. gives not a box of Snickers to Mr. Hoon, but a can of polish to keep his head forever shining.

Matt Chinchar wills to his traveling buddy, Dick Hardy, who has made so many trips with him, a bicycle for transportation.

Rose Vedmar leaves all her hubba-hubbas and bwangs to the little seventh-graders. They think "23, skiddo" is getting a little old.

Norma Kovach bequeaths her clerical work-book to anyone who can work it, not referring to anyone in particular, of course.

Dot Zele wills Mary Svrga a shorthand book equipped with all the answers, so that she won't have any difficulty whatsoever in completing the course!

CLASS WILL—12B

The graduating class of June, 1946, also have many things to bequeath upon those whom they leave behind. May these things be used to the best of advantage.

Ed Lynch wills to his brother, Al, the ability to keep his car running—at least most of the time.

John Juratovac leaves to Milan Mihelich all the demerits he has received from Mr. Vollman this year.

Jean Brew wills her 4 ft. 10¼ inches in height to all those little 7B's. Hope they reach that height some day.

Bernice Moeller wills to Nancy Soderstrom and Ray Calen the ability to hold hands in the halls without the teachers noticing them.

Lauralee Gronda wills her ability to have natural blonde hair to all those who have to use peroxide.

Ethel Heiser wills her position with the marching band to anyone who cares to plough through the muddy football field.

Willie Yozipovich wills to Mr. Blackburn an address book to use as a grade book.

Eleanor Sullivan wills her ability to tell the truth at all times to Ruth Pabalis who needs it badly.

Dorothy Snider happily bequeaths to Mr. Hoon one slightly battered Journalism book, hoping next year someone won't be as unfortunate as she has been.

Richard Brown wills his height to little Eddie Brown. (He can use it.).

Carol Lynn Yagello wills her ability to get along with Mr. Vollman to Mr. Vollman in case he finds it hard living with himself.

Barbara Walter wills her three eighth-grade boy-friends, Jack Bratel, Hugh Scott, and Donald Moser, to anyone who will have them.

FOOTBALL

The year 1945 was a fair season for the Lion football team. Out of nine games the boys finished with four games to their credit and one tie. Students were thrilled at games in all kinds of weather, sometimes being soaked to the skin before the end of the game.

Good leadership was found in the co-captains Ed "Moe" Mickovic and Don Kollmorgen. Ed was a contender for the conference scoring championship and Dick Hardy made the All-Conference Team. One of the fastest men in the conference was Cliff Boyce, an eleventh-grader.

As usual, the biggest game of the season was Euclid Central vs. Euclid Shore. It was held on the Euclid Central field. Shore defeated us but not without a great deal of fight.

Captain Willie Yozipovich

Captain Bob Drobnik

This year's team could have been termed a "hot and cold" ball club, coming through with a record of six wins out of sixteen. Despite the number of losses, the games were full of fun and excitement. Some of the outstanding games were those with South High, Brush and Bedford, all of which we lost by one point.

The team had an excellent captain in Willie Yozipovich. His tireless playing and quick thinking helped out in many tight spots. Willie was also high-point man for the squad and close contender for the conference individual scoring championship.

The Reserve Cagers made an outstanding showing. The boys, captained by Bob Drobnick, certainly foretold a good season for the coming year.

This year the team tracksters came out to get the conference championship which they lost last season by $1/3$ of a point. The schedule is quite heavy and great things are expected of the team at the time our year-book went out.

The class of '46 boasts of having in its midst Frank D'Arcy, who took the mile run at the Scholastic Meet at the Public Hall. Frank also participated in the K. of C. Meet and the cross-country meet. Also outstanding on the team was Ivor Bork, who piled up points in the high hurdle, high jump, and the quarter-mile run.

GIRLS' LEADERS CLUB

The Girls' Leaders is an outstanding club for Euclid Central girls. It is a selected group — the girls being voted on by teachers and also by the members of the club. They must have athletic ability, character, a capability for taking on responsibility, sportsmanship. Those obtaining high rank and having these qualifications are accepted.

Girls' Leaders plan and direct intramurals as well as take on the responsibility of taking care of gym classes and aiding with the elementary recreation program.

MUSIC

BAND

A first-place rating for five years has been held by the Euclid Central band under the direction of Dale Harper. Illustrative of the type of work done by the band is the fact that Euclid Central was invited to play at the National Educators' Convention. This team of sixty-five musicians has performed in numerous concerts for the school and civil enjoyment each year. Mr. Albert Mitchell has charge of the Junior High Band.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra, directed by Mr. Dale Harper, has about forty members. This organization has to prepare music for two class plays, two concerts, and a few special assemblies. The orchestra practices on Monday and Wednesday, third period. On Tuesdays and Thursdays, first period, Mr. Harper works with the string section.

CHOIR

Over one hundred harmonizing voices, which constitute the Euclid Central choir, have transcribed records for use on the city networks. Mr. John Beck is justly proud of the results of his efforts.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- September 5—The first day of the school year, and with it, the beginning of an eventful year. Mr. Gilbert reigns in his position as principal; Peter Benes, as Student Council president.
- September 21—Sponsoring the first dance of the year is the Hi-Y, under the direction of president Bob Lyman. He and the boys made possible a good time for everyone.
- September 28—The cheerleaders need new outfits this year, and as a result, a dance was given to raise funds for them. The squad now consists of three boys and three girls. They are Dolores Gribbons and Dolores Petrick; co-head cheerleaders, Lillian Makransky, Edward Clark, Edward Kovacich, and Bryan Jones.
- October 5—The first football game of the year with our very promising team in new uniforms.
- October 19—Little Jean Brew has taken upon herself the job of editing the Echo. Her page editors are: Nettie Wess, Pat Kreyssig, Coleen Martin, Minna Keel, and Nancy Davis, business manager. Mr. Hoon and Mr. Lebovitz are faculty advisers.
- October 26—No school today because of N.E.O.T.A.
- November 1—"Snafu," the Junior Class play, is a big success with Allen Bassett in the title role. Euclid Central is the first Cleveland school to present this play.
- November 2—A rally for the Shore-Central game sported a big bonfire and snake-dance for the first time in many years. The bonfire was started by co-captains Moe Mikovich and Don Kollmorgen.
- November 3—The big game of the year with victory for Shore. Willie Yozipovich, a letterman of many years, has seen his hopes of beating Shore fail again. Maybe next year, "Zip."
- November 16—Gala Nite—which means the last public performance at school for the Jascha Heifetz of Euclid Central, Ray Motiska.
- November 17—The All-conference team this year includes Dick Hardy, first team, and Bob Shepard, second team. Nice going, fellows. We're proud of you.
- November 22—Thanksgiving vacation—and just when school was becoming bearable. Nevertheless, students enjoyed it, and came back to school well-stuffed with turkey.
- December 1—The Senior class just decided to undertake the publishing of a yearbook. This is the first annual being put out on a large scale.
- December 7—A new theme in the way of dances has been started with the Echo's Snowball Dance. Bob Lyman and Barbara Walter were elected King and Queen. Chosen as the best couple dancing, were Anida Miller and Sam Perry.
- December 17—An all-girls' Christmas party was planned for tonight, but weather conditions did not permit it to be held. President of the Girls' League is Barbara Walter.
- December 18—The first Patron's Concert of the year was held tonight, making this the busiest week in a long time. Both the band and choir participated in this affair.
- December 19—Before leaving school until next year, a dance was held in the new gym, with music by the P.A. system. The P.A. Club seems to have gotten some "nifty" records lately, Ted McIntee helping things along by his expert skill at the controls.
- December 20—At last! the long awaited for Christmas vacation, and with it many delicious plans in the making. The girls, especially, will be happy, what with all the servicemen coming home on furlough.
- January 3—And so, back to school—but what a vacation. New outfits are being sported by many, and Jean Cutler seems to have added to her collection of Indian bracelets.

- January 19—The Friendship Formal, a regular thing at Euclid Central, was held in the gym, with decorations following an out-door scene. Lamp-posts with kerosene lanterns, firemen to watch out for fires, snowmen, live Christmas trees, and park benches were some of the decorations used to lend atmosphere to the gym.
- January 24—We say farewell to the January graduating class, who will be missed by all. Adeline Iczak and Norma Kovach took high honors as Valedictorian and Salutatorian of their class.
- January 25—The Shore-Central game was played tonight with very high expectations on our part, but again they have managed to beat us. With the cheerleading squad now is Larry Stark, who has replaced Bryan Jones since the beginning of the basketball season.
- January 26—A dance at Recher Hall was held by the Euclid Central veterans, of which Ed Stock is president. They have organized a basketball team that will compete not only with our Varsity, but with other organizations, too.
- January 28—A new semester, and with it new resolutions to better this half of the school year. There has been talk of a three-minute class change which will permit students to leave school at three o'clock. Bob Klinger will now receive the gavel, which is symbolical of presidency of Student Council, from Peter Benes.
- February 9—It looks as if the Veterans of this school aren't any better than the Varsity in conquering Shore. The Shore veterans won the game, which was the first one played between the veterans of the schools.
- February 12—The second Patron's Concert of the year, with the band and orchestra sharing the billing.
- February 26—The all-star girls' game between the Army and the Navy, captained respectively by Dolores Petrick and Jean Brew. The Army won. Although no boys were invited, it has been rumored that some did see the game. How about that, Ed DiCenzo, Rocco Baldassarre, Larry Hattondorf, and Allen Bassett?
- February 28—We came in third in our track meet with Cathedral Latin and Rhodes. Frank D'Arcy, our protege, who came in first in the district meet and third in the state meet earlier this year, has started his firsts in the mile. Ivor Bork, high-point man last year, is in his same form this year.
- March 15—The band is out for new uniforms—so, a concert in swingtime. All music played is popular.
- March 30—Once again a carnival is being held at Euclid Central. All cash profits will be turned over to the different organizations of the school, that will be of benefit to the school.
- April 10—Shore vs. Euclid at Central track field.
- April 12—Big Nite, and once again we say good-bye to people who won't be seen on the stage any more. Art Sydon, whose band has been playing for dances at school lately, is destined to become another Harry James.
- April 15-19—Vocational Conference week.
- April 22—The start of spring vacation, and we have all earned a rest.
- April 29—Back to school again, and since everybody is rested up, school can go back to normal again.
- May 3—Sadie Hawkins Dance, a little late this year due to conditions beyond the Girls' Leaders' control, is being taken advantage of by girls after dates to the Prom. More couples at school start that way. The Leaders' Club has had as its president all year, Stana Mrsnik, who has worked hard on all activities.
- May 10—The third and last music concert. Seniors to be missed in these programs will be: Jean Cutler, Diana Hawkey, Bob Klinger, Lauralee Gronda, Irene Steffek, Minna Keel, Mary Tuck, and Art Sydow.
We wonder what the band will be like without them.

- May 16-17—The Senior class play, "Ramshackle Inn," under the direction of Mr. Hoon, is a wonderful success and a tribute to the senior class.
- May 25—And now that event of all events! The Junior-Senior Prom. This is the night Mom and Dad will overlook a few hours late on the curfew that has had to be kept. This evening will be the one to be remembered through later life.
- May 29—Senior Day.
- May 30—Memorial Day. The band marched and played in the customary manner.
- June 1—The Senior Class banquet.
- June 2—Baccalaureate Service at Euclid Central.
- June 6—Commencement—and a good-bye to school life for the seniors.
- June 7—Last day of school.

CLASS PROPHECY

There is also a well-worked plot of ground up in Richmond Heights, and one can often see, clothed in faded blue dungerees, EMIL PALSA, the owner!

There are several pictures in the "Monitor," one is of a serious-looking young woman, and the caption reads "authoress." Now along with Anatole France's, "The Red Lilly"; Emil Zola's, "Camille"; and Kathleen Winsor's, "Forever Amber," a copy of PATRICIA BLAKESLEY'S self-illustrated "Chastean and Charles" now rests.

Another picture is a glamorous pose of a photogenic young girl and it reads beneath the picture—BARBARA WALTER has again been made cover girl of the magazine "Existence." She is the only model to be four times on the cover of "Existence."

The comics are clever in drawing and in story. The cartoons are ably draw by NANCY SODERSTROM, whose clever pencil creates both lovable and sirtister characters. The stories are written by CAROL LYNN YAGELLO who takes the characters upon their life's path.

In the advertisements are seen bits of interest such as these — "Is life becoming drab and dull for you? Do you long for a night of gayety? Well, be sure to go to GEORGE COOK'S Coca Cabana, sophisticated song-dance-dine-and-wine!"

Or "Intending an airplane trip? Try American Air Lines. We have congenial hostesses! Meet DOLORES KNE, (picture) air stewardess. You'll enjoy your trip more with a helpful hostess along!"

Or "A Modern Beauty Salon has opened on Main Street at Elm. Be sure to stop in to consult beauticians HELEN GORDISH or BARBARA ZUBER about your beauty treatment."

And then there's the one that reads "RICHARD HARDY'S Charm School now offers special Wednesday afternoon classes for your convenience. Of course, there will still be carried on the regular evening classes. The enrollment is high, so hurry and get your name in."

So by reading a copy of the Euclid Monitor of June 6, 1956, it is easily seen that the class of June 6, 1946, did very well for itself and will undoubtedly carry on even better in the future.

FINIS

Minna Keel wills her naturally curly hair to those girls who spend at least an hour every night in putting up theirs.

Joe Eisler leaves his ability to blush to some of the 11th grade girls who don't even know the meaning of the word.

Mildred Habic wills her athletic ability to Vinco Globokar, hoping that he'll participate in a few sports next year.
